Welcome Back

Kia ora koutou, welcome back to Artsenta and your creative community. Artsenta staff had a really good tidy up at the end of last year including painting the gallery area. We're all looking forward to a great year of creativity and there's some great events and projects coming up which I encourage everyone to get stuck into. Throughout 2025 we will be preparing for next year's 40th celebrations – we'll keep you posted on developments. Lastly, a big warm welcome to Lisa, our new staff member who will be leading our pottery area. Lisa brings lots of skills and experience and it's great to have a full team once again. Mauri ora.

End of Year Shenanigans 2024

On Wednesday the 18th of December, Artsenta hosted another successful End of Year Shenanigans event. Compared to the previous year, we had twice the number of performers take part. They treated the audience to poetry and musical items, which included an impressive array of original songs. It was great to see the mix of experienced performers, and first-time debutants take to the stage to share their talent and charisma.

Quote from artist:

I am always impressed by the multitude of talent displayed at the Artsenta concerts. As for me, I seem to have a hankering for soulful ballads with hopeful endings, as was the case with John Denver's, "Leaving on a Jet Plane." I hope you enjoyed!" ~Stephen

Change of Wednesday hours

From February we will be opening from 12 noon on Wednesdays. This change is needed to ensure we can provide the best service possible to artists. It will allow staff more time for planning events, projects, outings (and our 40th), training, professional development, among other things. We are mindful this affects some artists and thank you for your understanding.
